

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XXI.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, AUGUST 22, 1893.

NO. 50

WILLOW GROVE.

—Miss Ella Bailey, of Austin, Texas, has been visiting relatives in this vicinity. Mr. Robert Lewis is in the Cumberland mountains recuperating.

—It does not speak volumes of praise for a neighborhood with as many children and as many good people in it as this one, to have no Sunday school. Miss Betsy Spoonamore, however, deserves great praise for her efforts in trying to get up one recently. She visited a number of homes and tried her best to get the children and the heads of the families in the notion to organize a Sunday-school, but they said they wanted to "rest" on Sundays. They had better be getting a move on themselves, individually and collectively, that they may be prepared to sure enough "rest" in the sweet bye-and-bye.

—In connection with the fact that Miss Georgia Lewis won the Interior Journal prize in spelling at the Teachers' Institute last week, it would be in place to state that she is a bright member of a bright family. Her father, Dr. T. M. Lewis, is a well-informed gentleman on most any subject, a faithful and successful physician, and her mother, who was Miss Lizzie Alcorn, a sister of Judge James W. Alcorn, is possessed of an unusual amount of good, old-fashioned, hard sense. Their oldest son, Albert A. Lewis, is a newspaper man of recognized ability; Miss Maggie is a highly accomplished young lady, possessing musical talent to an eminent degree; Prof. Lucien Lewis was the youngest and only teacher in Boyle county to get a first-class school certificate last year and their other two children, Robert and John, have just any amount of "hoss sense." Miss Georgia being given the Mt. Xenia school over about 15 competitors, last week, is no small matter itself, but it proves that talent and hard work are always recognized.

—Mr. Jack Bowley says that in the year 1835 a well was bored by a Mr. John Shackelford on a farm which afterward passed into the hands of the honored and venerable democrat, George W. Tribble, Esq., who some 40 years ago arranged comfortable seats under the wide spreading branches of the innumerable shade trees surrounding it and it proved to be a boon to mankind for at least 25 miles around, the people from Stanford, Danville and other places, congregating there almost daily and especially on Sunday afternoons, and willing away the hours in a pleasant manner. It became widely known as "Tribble's Sulphur Well," and the strong believers in the efficacy of its waters were innumerable. During the war the soldiers of both sides who participated in "the late unpleasantness" used to frequently come there, and doubtless scattered all over the United States to-day are those of their number who remember some pleasing incident connected with this once famous camping ground. In after years, however, the water, I am told, partially ceased to flow and "when the well dried up, then they missed the water, you know." At present the farm on which this well was located, is owned by Mr. Joshua B. Adams (about two miles from here, near the Hanging Fork bridge) and he has just re-bored it, finding at something less than 100 feet a strong stream of sulphur and chalybeate water and consequently the neighborhood is happy and you can now "come to the fountain, drink and live." It will now become widely known as "Adams' Sulphur Well," and if you'll keep drinking this water I'll guarantee you'll never thirst.

DANVILLE.

(Advocate.)

—The Fair Company is able to declare a small dividend from its last exhibition.

—The stock of C. D. Portwood sold at assignee's sale for $4,105. It was appraised at $9,000.

—Mr. Charles McDowell has been elected recorder to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Judge Alex. Anderson.

—Jesse P. Riffe delivered Saturday last to Dick Gentry two car loads of cattle at 5 cents, weight 1,525 and J. W. Allen one car at same, weight 1,530.

—A. M. King and his brother, Claude, have returned from an extended trip through New England and Nova Scotia. Mr. King was greatly benefited by his vacation, and says he feels better than he has for years.

—There are 14 men in and about Perryville whose ages aggregate 1,100 years, an average of 78 years and some months. The oldest of the 14 is Mr. John B. McAfee, who is 90 years of age and still works at his trade of blacksmith.

—The World's Fair is booming, the attendance Saturday reaching over 160,000.

—John Samuels, a highly respected farmer in Montgomery county, drowned himself over domestic and financial troubles.

—A Chicago firm has been awarded the contract for the partial stonework of the government building at Richmond for $11,512.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Bro. Frank continues to improve slowly and hopes are entertained that he will be up and out soon.

—Some of our farmers are feeding their wheat to their hogs, owing to the depressed condition of the wheat market.

—Mrs. M. F. Holmes takes charge of the Mason Hotel on Monday, the 21st. She is an estimable lady and will keep an excellent house.

—Union services will be held at the Methodist church Sunday evening and the sermon delivered by Rev. J. R. Terry, of the Presbyterian church.

—Homer Batson and his sister, Miss Lula, left Saturday evening for a visit to the World's Fair. Miss Sophronia Smith and Mr. and Mrs. T. Elkin started on Monday for the Windy City.

—"Frog eye," the cake-walker, over whom two dusky damsels recently had a fight, ought to be employed by the managers of the World's Fair. He would be a drawing card.

—The store of R. E. McRoberts was entered Thursday night by burglars, who carried away some of the jewelry in the case of Messrs. Morrow and McRoberts. They entered the back door of the building by forcing the lock and cutting an opening in the wire screen and undoing a latch about 12 inches below the top of the door. Nothing is known as to the perpetrator of the crime. Several suspicious looking characters were in town that day.

—It is stated that parties have been sent to Indiana to engage the services of the Conrad brothers, who killed the four white caps recently, to be exhibited in a museum in Chicago during the World's Fair. Chicago has disgraced itself by allowing the Libby prison to be taken from Richmond and placed on exhibition in that city, thus keeping alive the unpleasant recollections of the war that ought to pass into oblivion. If, however, the managers of the exposition are not content with what they have, they ought by all means to arrange to have the fight between Corbett and Mitchell take place in Midway Plaisance and seats reserved for all the dignitaries of the land. An occasional bull fight or chicken fight may be added as a side show. The enormous waste of money upon this frivolous undertaking at a time when starvation is staring hundreds of thousands in the face, reflects no credit upon a people boasting of their civilization and Christianity.

—California is preparing for a mid-winter international exposition at San Francisco which will open Jan. 1, 1894, and close June 30. It will be in Golden Gate Park and cover over 100 acres. Manufactures and liberal arts, agriculture, horticulture, mechanical and decorative arts will be displayed on a huge scale.

—Demands are being made on New York banks by Southern concerns for funds with which to move the cotton crop and the belief is expressed among bankers of the metropolis that money, will eventually be forthcoming, one suggesting that relief may to a great extent be afforded by the use of certified checks.

—Sheriff Simmons and posse, of Madison, arrested and placed in jail six of the Wilson tribe near State Lick Springs. This tribe consists of some 20 or 25 men who have banded together for the purpose of stealing and who have been doing a great deal of it lately. The rest of the band are hidden in the mountains and say they will die rather than surrender.

—The Fort Wayne train carrying $250,000 in gold coin to Chicago was wrecked at Whiting, Ind. The engine was thrown from the track and the car which contained the coin was so badly injured it had to be burst open and a portion of the treasure scattered on the ground. The wreck caught fire and but for the prompt action of the fire department the train with its precious load might have been consumed.

—The Howerton scandal, which was the nine days' talk in Bourbon, is renewed by the publication of a letter from Mrs. Howerton, in which she says that she was not in her right mind when her husband made her sign the confession, not a line of which is true. She says further that Howerton was in need of money and thought this the easiest way to get it. She closes by advising young women not to marry a man who drinks at home, as her husband does.

The Weakest Spot

in your whole system, perhaps, is the liver. If that doesn't do its work of purifying the blood, more troubles come from it than you can remember.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts upon this weak spot as nothing else can. It rouses it up to healthy, natural action. By thoroughly purifying the blood it reaches, builds up and invigorates every part of the system.

For all diseases that depend on the liver or the blood—Dyspepsia, Indigestion, biliousness; every form of scrofula, even Consumption (or Lung scrofula) in its earlier stages, and the most stubborn Skin and Scalp Diseases, the "Discovery" is the only remedy so unfailing and effective that it can be guaranteed.

If it doesn't benefit or cure you have your money back.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Messrs. Holdam and James have rented the old school building for a warehouse and are storing a big lot of whisky in it.

—Mrs. George Sinclair and Miss Lucille Bergeron, of New Orleans, and Misses Lizzie and Mollie Burton, of Buckeye, are with Mrs. Curtis Gover.

—Miss Belle Livingston and Mrs. Maggie Hibbon, of Kansas City, Mo., and Mr. James Livingstone, of Palm Beach, Fla., are guests of Mrs. Stephen Pennington and Rev. Jasper Livingston. Miss Lillias Buchanan and Miss Kincaid, of Knoxville, are with Mrs. Harriet Abrahams. Mrs. Lizzie Henry, of Knoxville, is the mother of a fine boy which made his appearance last week—John Buchanan Henry.

—Mrs. Harding, who made such a lengthy stay at the Vanderpool House, left very suddenly in the night taking Miss Hattie Vanderpool with her. It is said they walked from here to Stanford and that the girl was robbed of her money and left there. How much of this is true we are unable to say. The grand-parents of the girl are very much distressed about her.

—Mr. A. H. Bastin has nearly completed his new storeroom at the depot, which is quite an improvement to that place. He has a coal store in connection with the store and will soon be ready to supply the town with that necessary article. He is a most obliging gentleman and we feel sure he will get the greater part of the patronage in that vicinity as everyone likes him.

—FOR SALE.—A very desirable property in Crab Orchard, situated on Main and Cemetery streets; house has six good rooms, pantry, kitchen and all necessary outbuildings and lot contains three acres of good, rich land. The well of splendid water on this property is worth the price asked for the place, as the late Dr. Graham spoke of it as being worth 50 cents a drink to anyone suffering from kidney or liver trouble. This property commands a good rent price and would be a splendid home for anyone desiring to take advantage of Crab Orchard's noted waters. For terms address Mrs. Bettie Buchanan, Crab Orchard, Ky.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Frazier Collinsworth, 21, married Mrs. Frances Ecton, 71, in Clark county. He is poor; she has a blue-grass farm. The boy is her 5th husband.

—Mrs. Marie E. J. L. S. Willard, of New York, has filed suit against Richard Goodman Platt, of that city, for $50,000 for breach of promise. Mrs. Willard alleges that Mr. Platt promised to marry her, but that after she had lived with him awhile he refused to keep his promise. She is a grass widow.

—Eloping is a costly pastime out about Spokane, Wash. Rain-in-the-Face Tom Cat, a Kolispell Indian, captured his squaw there, shot her dead and scalped her for having eloped with White Blanket, a Spokane Indian. White Blanket and others caught Tom Cat, cut off his ears, bound him hand and foot and threw him into a fire they had built.

—The Somerset Reporter tells of a novel case. Mrs. J. S. Smiley, wife of a grocer there, told her husband that she loved another man and could not live with him longer, although she admitted that he was a model husband and father. She then went before Judge Denton, relinquished her dower, gave up the custody of her two children and departed for Holton, Kas. The woman shows that she is a most unnatural mother and Mr. Smiley should rejoice that he has gotten rid of such a wife, but it is said that he still loves her and prays for her return.

—Graddock, who has never done anything in that line himself, though no fault of his, probably, says in his Kentuckian: "What has got the matter with the boys and girls of this county that so few marriages take place? It is true the weather has its influence upon all nature, causing the flowers to bloom, the birds to put forth and the merry lark to sing upon the topmost branches of the trees, but it should not have a tendency to depress the matrimonial market, which is the life of the country and the prospect of our standing army and stability of our government."

—Ex Postmaster C. W. Richardson, one among our oldest and most respected citizens, departed this life yesterday at his residence in this city after a protracted illness from some throat affection. Uncle Cy, as he was familiarly called, has resided in this city for the greater part of his life and if he had an enemy on earth we never heard it. He was an honest, clever, upright man, a member of the M. E. Church South and a citizen whose place will be hard to fill.

—Somerset News Letter.

—The controller says that the Louisville City National is solvent with $80,000 surplus and may resume when it has capital on hand to pay demand liabilities for which extensions have not been granted and to provide for current demands.

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

—A three days' special term of circuit court convened Monday.

—Miss Bessie Adams, of Garrard, is visiting relatives here.

—Don't fail to attend the Laurel county Fair, the best in the mountains.

—G. W. Faris had a valuable milk cow killed by the train Saturday evening.

—Virge Cross, a negro, stabbed another, name not learned, fatally at Altamont Sunday.

—S. A. Lovelace is the proud and happy father of a little baby girl. Grandfather F. B. Riley is doing well.

—Dalton & Dunn's Canned Co. will be here during the Fair, and if they have a crowd in proportion to the advertising they have Dunn, they will do well.

—Boss Butler, of color, and John Warren were arrested Friday, accused of stealing a pistol belonging to a guest at the Caching House. They gave bond.

—Wm. Stringer, of Pittsburgh, Ky., has been appointed a deputy under United States Marshal Blackburn. He filed a bond Saturday with J. W. Bastin, Geo. W. Givens and R. Jackson bondsmen. Democrats who know all the parties are surprised that Stringer should be appointed over such men as F. E. Riley and John T. Hatcher.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The Southern Presbyterian Church, with less than 200,000 members, has 130 missionaries in the field.

—Over 4,000 colored people attended the State Association of Baptists at Harrodsburg, Sunday. Eight excursion trains came in loaded to the guards.

—The Barnes troupe were in Frankfort, Sunday, where the evangelist preached at night and left next day to hold a 10-days meeting at Carrollton.

—Dr. J. R. Baumes, a minister and religious editor for 25 years, has leased Daughters College for three years and will open it again Sept. 6th with a full faculty.

—In a single ward in Boston, which contains 22,000 inhabitants, there is not a single protestant church. New York, below 14th street is as decidedly missionary grounds as China or Japan.

—The 67th annual report of the American Bible Society shows that during the past year the receipts were $578,930.76, and expenditures $560,537.01. The sum of $155,238.32 was appropriated for the foreign department during the present year.

—Few people have an idea of the far-reaching influence of the work of the American Bible Society. The total receipts of the society for 77 years, to March 31, 1893, were $26,549,248.39, and the total issues for the same were $6,926,771.

—Elder Clark Braden has signified his intention of debating Christianity with C. C. Moore, the somewhat noted infidel. Mr. Braden might do the cause more good by letting such men as Moore severely alone. His opinions have no weight with thinking people of respectability.

In Remembrance of Hattie Shumate.

NOT DEAD.
I think Hattie is living yet;
It can not, ought not, must not be,
That death hath conquered utterly,
That in the swift and fell surprise
That chilled her heart and sealed her eyes,
All died that we had loved and known;
All died that knew and loved her own—
I think her living yet.

I think Hattie is living yet,
Somewhere in God's infinity;
Somewhere, though hidden quite from me;
She being has—she walks in white—
She knows the joy, she sees the light
Of those who reach the higher planes,
By secret ways of mortal pains;
I think her living yet.

I think Hattie is living yet;
An angel bright, God's minister,
All beautiful, I think of her;
She so divinely formed to bless,
So rich in woman's tenderness,
God's hand might be to wipe a tear,
His voice with words of holy cheer.
I think her living yet.

I think Hattie is living yet;
In glad rejoicing round the throne,
She serves and sings, she still my own,
Goes with the shining companies,
The Great King in his beauty sees,
A child gone home, she is not dead!
Her portion she's inherited,
I think her living yet.

For Representative,

HARVEY HELM.

For Superintendent of Public Schools,

W. F. McCLARY.

Gov. McCREARY spoke in favor of the unconditional repeal of the Sherman bill Saturday and his high standing in the House, coupled with the fact that he was a member of the Monetary Conference, caused his speech to be listened to with unusual interest. He took the position that this country could not afford to adopt free coinage at present, as it is impossible for a single country to maintain such a policy. Adopt it here and our $500,000,000 of gold would flow at once to Europe. The only path to the free coinage of silver lay in an international agreement for bimetalism, which, he thought, the repeal of the Sherman bill would insure. He expressed regret that the question of a change of ratio between gold and silver had been injected into this question. He had no sympathy with those who now desired to change the ratio from 16 to 1 to 20 to 1. To change the ratio would be to strike down and destroy every prospect of international agreement. To change the ratio would be to discredit every dollar of silver in the United States. The first duty of Congress was, without delay, to repeal the purchasing clause of the Sherman act; the second duty was to let free coinage alone for the present; its third duty was to stand by a patriotic President in his efforts to advance the prosperity of the people and the welfare of the nation. The governor was frequently interrupted by Mr. Bland, the champion of free coinage, but it did not concern him in the least, being always ready with a reply, till the silver lion persisted in misrepresenting him, when he declined longer to be interrupted. Our representative was warmly congratulated at the close of his speech, which was liberally applauded throughout.

SPEECH is silver and silence is golden, says the proverb. But in the case of Silver-Tongued Billy Breckinridge we find an exception to this like there is to all other rules. The colonel was down for a speech yesterday, which while it may have been delivered in a silvery manner was not silver, that is to say it was not for silver. On the other hand the silence he is maintaining on a question that affects his moral standing does not appear to be golden, since his enemies are making the most of it and insisting that if he were not guilty he would assert that he wasn't in unmistakable terms, unequivocally and with no purpose of evasion whatever. The colonel may be the victim of a designing woman but all the same there will not be many people to believe it till there is more evidence of it than there has so far been forthcoming.

The first issue of Judge W. M. Finley's Sunday paper, "The Bee," fills even the great expectations that its promised advent had created. Louisville would seem to have a sufficiency of Sunday newspapers, but there is always room for such as Finley's recognized ability as a writer insures. The number before us shows more of honey than of the sting, but there is enough of the latter to warrant that the Bee will use its business end promptly at the smallest provocation. We salute you, Judge Finley, and wish for your venture all the success and prosperity that the most sanguine could imagine.

THE Senate Finance Committee tied on the question of unconditional repeal of the Sherman law and the tie was broken by Chairman Voorhees, who voted for unconditional repeal, coupled with a declaration in favor of bimetalism. Harris, Vest, Vance, Jones, he of Arkansas and he of Nevada, voted against the repeal. A poll of the Senate shows a small majority for repeal, but it is said that the body will await the action of the House.

THE Virginia democrats chose Congressman Charles T. O'Farrell for their candidate for governor on the first ballot, giving him 1,146 of the 1,665 votes cast. The nomination was then made unanimous. R. C. Kent, of Wythe, was nominated for lieutenant governor by acclamation. The convention was harmonious throughout, showing that the party is thoroughly united.

THE Kentucky Baptist abandons its chosen field long enough to remark "that Hon. J. L. Bruce, the admirable Moderator of South District Association would make a model governor." Very true, no doubt, but moderators did not fare very well in the last gubernatorial convention. Dr. Clardy, the boss moderator, fell early in the action.

—Another congressman is dead, J. L. Chipman, of Detroit.

WHILE the democrats of Virginia were in convention at Richmond last week, an afternoon paper was circulated in which was a dispatch that Mrs. Cleveland had presented her old man with a boy, or words to that effect. Having implicit confidence that everything printed in the newspapers is true, ex-Gov. Fitzhugh Lee enthusiastically announced the news to the body and moved that a congratulatory dispatch be sent the supposed-to-be-happy father. The motion was adopted and the governor signed his own name to the dispatch. Imagine his chagrin when the item proved to be false. He then went to work to extricate himself from the unpleasant situation and at last accounts had succeeded in doing so. But the next time the ex-governor of Virginia telegraphs about a "possible president" he will be absolutely sure that "unto the pair a child is born, unto them a son is given and the government shall be upon his shoulder."

AS GEN. JOHN C. BLACK is now drawing a salary of $5,000 and other perquisites as Congressman at large from the State of Illinois, he will prove to the country he is an honest man, by relinquishing for the time at least, the $100 a month voted him by Congress for total disability. The general is fearfully maimed, but he is not totally disabled as long as he is in position to draw a salary from the government or anything else. His case does not come under the pension bureau, as he is the beneficiary of a special act, but he ought himself to discourage such a raid on the treasury as the drawing of two salaries implies. The democrats are pledged to purge the pension lists. Let a democrat be the first to give up a pension he does not now need.

SECRETARY CARLISLE estimates that it would cost the government $112,866,321 to change the ratio of the $419,322,450 silver dollars to the proposed ratio of 20 to 1. The dollar would then be nearly as large as a dinner plate and nobody would take it if he could get paper money or gold.

THE Virginia democrats sat down on Senator Daniel by declaring against the free coinage of silver. The senators will learn after a while that all the wisdom is not concentrated in the rich man's club, known as the Senate of the United States.

THE Courier-Journal says that the editor of this paper is growing morose and no longer sympathizes with that beautiful state, love's young dream. Wrong, as usual. On the contrary, quite the reverse is true. You don't know, old boy.

FRIENDS of Congressman Breckinridge claim that the candidates who want to warm his seat in Congress are at the bottom of the damage suit brought by Miss Pollard. We hope, indeed, that it is no worse than that.

THE fact that Mrs. Cleveland is sailing around in a yacht rather discourages the report that has gained currency.

—During a recent thunder storm in this locality David S. Johnstone found that two of his largest bullocks had been killed by a thunderbolt. He thinks they would have weighed 1,700 each and had been sold at 5 cents.—Dr. Alcorn in Advocate.

—In remitting for his paper another year Mr. C. K. Crow, of Atlanta, writes that all branches of business are dull there, but when crops begin to move he looks for a change in conditions. Money is in great demand, but our banks are taking care of their customers.

—J. W. Bales this week bought 100 fat cattle, averaging 1,600 pounds, from Smith & Black at 4 1/2 cents. He also purchased 32 head of 1,550-pound cattle from Harvey Chenaunt at same price. This bunch of cattle is for N. Lehman & Son, Baltimore, and will be used for export.—Richmond Register.

—A small crowd attended the Danville court yesterday and business generally was dull. There were probably 50 cattle on the market, but only about half changed hands. Two two-year-old cattle brought $15 and a lot of three-year-olds were withdrawn at 3c. Prewitt & Wood sold a bunch of mountain ewes at $1.85. One mule sold at $85 and a pair for $162.

—We predict that E. P. Woods' great saddle stallion, Eagle Bird, will have no trouble in getting the blue tie at Lexington. He is in better shape than he ever was and had not old Monte Christo's reputation as a breeder been so well established, Eagle Bird would have worn the "slick" tie at Versailles. There is one thing beyond a doubt and that is when it comes to going all the gaits, and going them well, Mr. Woods' entry can't be beat.

On this doctors don't disagree. It may be regarded as an assured fact that the delegates to the Pan American Congress at Washington, who travel over the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway will, with one accord, praise its scenery and train service. There is nothing in the way of lovely mountain views and picturesque valleys of the Virginias, to compare with that through which the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad passes. There is nothing of historic nature in America as great as a trip through the Virginias and there is no other railroad in America superior to the C. & O. in the smoothness and stability of its tracks, the F. F. V. Vestibule Limited being one of the famous trains of the world. The Chesapeake & Ohio passes through Bull Run, Manassas and other noted battle fields and is in all respects the best route for the West, North-West and South-West to the National Capital. While George Wearren Hughes, the 8-year-old son of Mrs. Hughes, and a little son of Dr. VanArsdale, were riding a horse, the former fell off, dislocating his shoulder and bruising him up pretty badly generally.

Judge M. C. Sauley has purchased of William Welch his house and lot on Danville street for $3,000. His son-in-law, George L. Penny, has bought a portion of the lot from Judge Sauley and will build a nice residence on it.

You can save a trip to Chicago by going to Walton's Opera House to-night. The great fair will be reproduced there by the great fun maker and dialect impersonator, John Holmes Grover, who has a world-wide reputation as a wit.

The L. & N. pay train has not yet gone on its monthly rounds owing to the inability of the road to secure the necessary amount of currency, but a number of banks are trying to get it for the company and it will likely start out next Monday.

The auction of the stock of goods of Stephens & Knox is largely attended, especially by the ladies, who delight to bid, but Mr. W. H. Higgins, the receiver, says that the prices realized are very unsatisfactory. The goods have to go though, no matter what is bid.

Owing to the impossibility to borrow money, we are compelled to sell exclusively for cash from now on, in order to be able to continue our business. We are very thankful for the many favors we have received and hope to merit a continuance, promising you the best coal at the lowest possible price. Now is the time to lay in your winter coal. Higgins & Watts.

George Craig, the negro boy who had just finished a term in jail for stealing jam from a colored sister, was caught stealing rails from Hon. W. H. Miller, Saturday. Mr. Miller succeeded in getting hold of the rascal, who put his leg in front of him and threw him down, but the game little lawyer held on to his bird and landed him before the court, who fined him $10. Of course he went to jail.

The son of our congressman is playing in fine luck. The Richmond Register says: Mr. Robert H. McCreary, recently of this place, now of Chicago, is in big luck. In addition to the appointment of Government Inspector of Customs, with a salary of $6,000 a year, on Sunday morning last his wife, nee Newberry, presented him with a fine boy. Robert's many friends in Richmond will wish him great joy.

CHOLERA.—Mr. J. E. Bruce tells us that it is 20 years next Tuesday since the cholera broke out here and caused such consternation. Nearly everybody who could get away fled and the town looked more deserted than Rowland does now. There were 17 deaths, all but two among the colored people. It is remarkable that there were no cases down in town, the disease seeming to confine itself almost exclusively to the portion on the north side of the railroad.

A young drug clerk in town, who is as clever as he is credulous, was made the butt of quite a joke by his friends. He was in his usual health, but the boys began to tell him that he looked sick and pale and that there must be something wrong with him. The young man imagined, after much persuasion, that he was really sick and that night began doctoring up by taking a double dose of castor oil and followed it with another as strong a purgative. It is needless to say that he is looking a little pale now, both because of the effects of the drug and because he has caught on to the racket.

WALKER BELL will board for the next 10 days at Jailer Owens' free hotel and longer unless he pays or replevies the additional fine of $25 assessed against him. Except when he looks upon the wine when it is red, Mr. Bell is as mild a mannered man as ever scuttled a ship or cut a throat, but when he gets in his cups he is as rantankerous and as warlike as a Comanche Indian. He got in that fix the other day in Hustonville and when Policeman Devers attempted to quiet him, he yanked out a pistol from its concealment and tried to perforate the officer "full of holes." He came out second best in the fight, however, and on being tried was given ten days in jail and fined $25. He is now in the calaboose meditating on the vanities of life and the idiocy of "totin a pistule."

The College will open two weeks from to-day and the prospect is good for a full school.

Mrs. J. W. Pulliam, who was Miss Pearl Tabler, has an 8-pound girl. They live in Washington and Mr. Pulliam has an important position in the pension department.

Votes for A. P. Pendleton (H.) for jailer and you will not regret it. The old rebel deserves some recognition from the democratic party, which he has served for nearly a half century.

Lost at the Moreland Union S. S. Building dedication a gold medal with Angie B. Carpenter on it. Please return to Mrs. Will Fry Carpenter, Hustonville, and receive reward.

Miss Kate Cook's school at Hustonville has increased in number of pupils to such an extent that she has been compelled to employ an assistant. Her sister, Miss Jessie Cook, will help her.

Notice.—As the time to make my annual visit to each school district in the county has come, I will not be in my office except on Saturdays and county court days for the next two or three months. W. F. McClary, County Supt.

The new heirs of the INTERIOR JOURNAL, James McCreary Keller and Carlisle Cleveland Waters are already becoming famous. A large number of newspapers have mentioned their advent in words that have nearly tickled their proud fathers to death.

While a freight train was running cars into the side track here at noon Saturday, brakeman Lee Gaslin was thrown from a car by the jar of striking another and falling head first struck the gate of a coal car, laying wide his scalp in two places and otherwise injuring him. His right hip struck the rail when he reached the ground and he was also badly bruised then. The doctors were called and after dressing the wounds sent Mr. Gaslin by No. 24 to his home at New Haven. The wounds though severe are not thought to be fatal.

For a long time a bad feeling has existed between Elijah Baughman and Jim Brown. The former is reported to be somewhat of a gay Lothario, who practices his wiles sometimes on other men's wives. At least Brown charged him with a disposition to be too free with his and a row and a rumus was raised. The other night, as Brown avers, he was confronted by Baughman, who without a moment's warning drew a pistol and put it in his face and with an oath told him to prepare to shuffle off his mortal coil. Not being prepared to go hence and having nothing with which to defend himself, Brown yelled for help, which came in time to prevent him from becoming a demmed moist body. Then the services of Marshal Newland were obtained and Baughman was marched before Judge Carson charged with carrying a deadly weapon concealed. The proof was two to one against him, though he claimed that the weapon was no pistol at all, only a common, every day knife with a shiny handle. The court didn't swallow his story and a sentence of 10 days with a fine of $25 was entered against him. He was taken to the lock up and after he had time to collect his thoughts he decided to take an appeal, which he did with the assistance of Judge J. W. Alcorn. Baughman is the leading member of several lodges and is always high-cock-a-lorem of the parades.

DROPPED DEAD.—Angden Bridgewater, for years the most notorious man in this section, dropped dead Sunday night at his home in Moreland, shortly after his return from Sunday-school. The head of an organized band of robbers, the deceased was a holy terror to this section and he robbed and raided indiscriminately. When horses were taken, cars broken open, houses burglarized or any kind of devilment committed it was charged to "Old Bridge," although he may have been as innocent of the crime as a new born babe. That he did do a great deal of stealing there is no doubt and that caused a large reward to be offered for him. Many attempts were made to capture him but without success till Marshal Gallagher, of Harrodsburg, caught him passing through Mercer with a wagon load of boodle. In arresting him, the officer shot Bridge in the face, splintering his jaw bone and necessitating its removal. He was lodged in jail here and for a long time had to subsist on soup drawn through a quill. He was a very large man, but he was soon reduced to almost a skeleton and his appearance touching the hearts of the jury when he was brought to trial, he was let off with a short term in the penitentiary. After serving it he returned to this county and professing religion began to lead a new life, taking great interest in church and Sunday-school affairs. He married a Miss Warren, of this place, who bore him one child and both survive him. Bridge had become to be regarded as a good citizen and had won the respect of his neighbors to a large degree. He was a brother of the noted Col. Jim Bridgewater, who was in command of a raiding company of home guards after the war, and who murdered and robbed every sympathizer with the lost cause that he could trump up charges against. He was finally killed by Mr. Walter Saunders and for the act a grateful people elected him sheriff by a practically unanimous vote.

The boy born to Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hutchings died and was taken to Lancaster for burial.

Go to the World's Fair to-night. It will only cost you 25 cents. You'll see it all and hear a heap of funny business besides.

CRAB ORCHARD SPRINGS is enjoying a nice patronage. There are 75 to 100 guests there and all seem as happy as the days are long.

AUCTION on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights for colored people only. White people will please not attend at night. Auction every day this week. W. H. Higgins.

We would call attention to A. R. Penny's clearance sale of watches, clocks, silverware and everything in the jewelry line. Now is the time to buy at slaughter prices for cash.

The weather has been cool and crisp for a few days with that delicious fall flavor, which is always delightful. A good soaking rain is badly needed though and the farmers are beginning to cry aloud for it.

J. T. Terry has been appointed by Sheriff Menefee as his deputy in the Highland and Waynesburg precincts. Mr. Terry is a monstrous good man, but why Mr. Menefee should select a republican on his staff when there are so many good democrats, is not explained.

Miss ANNIE ALCON is becoming exceedingly expert as a stenographer and type writer and her father finds her an invaluable assistant in his large law practice. She can take about 100 words a minute in short-hand, which is remarkably fast considering that she has attended no business college nor had any regular instructor.

OPERA HOUSE TO-NIGHT—The famous humorist, John Holmes Grover, who has been a life time before the public, on his way to Chattanooga from Cincinnati, has been induced to stop off at Stanford to-night and will give his new entertainment, "Fun at the Fair," in connection with Stern's World Fair Show at Walton's Opera House, commencing at 8:15 o'clock. One hundred scenes, direct from Chicago, will be shown and the World's Fair brought to the visitor in all its reality. Admission 25 cents. Reserved coupon tickets at McRoberts drug store at 10 cents extra.

FRANK PERRY, who was jointly charged with Odie Paul in the murder of Ike Helm, having been discharged by the examining court for that offense and held for assault and battery, he was brought before Judge Varnon Saturday and tried on that charge. In the absence of the county attorney Mr. W. A. Tribble prosecuted, while Hon. R. C. Warren represented the defendant. It was found that his assault on the negro was some moments previous to the difficulty between him and Paul and was not of a very serious nature. A jury thought he ought to pay for it, however, and assessed his fine at $125, which he will have to work out.

KILLING IN BOYLE.—Mr. J. A. Carpenter sends us the following: Mr. Bruce Purdom was shot and instantly killed, Saturday afternoon, at a game of base ball on the farm of Mr. Phil Dever, on the Rolling Fork, by Mr. Dever. It seems there had previously been some difficulty between the parties, arising from the teacher's manner of conducting the public school, he being a son of Mr. Dever. Both men are heads of families, Mr. Dever being 55 or 60 years of age and Mr. Purdom 40. Mr. Dever is the father of Mr. Dever who used to be mail agent on the K. C. Having heard only one side of the story I shall not attempt to give particulars.
